2019 Malcolm G. McLaren Lecture Symposium
Thursday, March 28th

Richard Weeks Hall of Engineering
Rutgers University – Busch Campus
500 Bartholomew Road, Piscataway, NJ

Featuring:
Dr. Matt Dejneka
as the 2019 MGM Distinguished Speaker

Presented by:
The Rutgers Department of Materials Science & Engineering and the
Ceramic Association of New Jersey

TECHNICAL PROGRAM: INNOVATIONS IN GLASS – Lecture Hall 102

1:30 – 1:35  Introductory Comments – CANJ President Fred Mazzeo, Director of Global Applications, Malvern Panalytical

2:15 – 2:55  Prof. Lisa C. Klein, Distinguished Professor of Materials Science and Engineering, Rutgers University, Piscataway, NJ, “What's New in Melting Gels”

2:55 – 3:25  Break

4:10 – 4:20  Welcome from the Dean’s Office – Dean Thomas Farris

RECEPTION AND POSTER SESSION: MSE SENIOR POSTER COMPETITION – 2nd Floor Lobby

6:00 – 7:30  Reception and Poster Competition

7:30 – 8:00  Awards – MGM Distinguished Speaker, Corning Scholarships, Poster Winners